VIPEREMR.COM

Help restrain violent & agitated patients prior to and during encounters to gain the mechanical advantage.

We have invented and developed an Emergency Medical device and decided to go to an industry trade show to get knowledge out about its safer violence restraint abilities.

Being new to trade shows, we fortunately learned about Sky SS and their vetted referral services including alignment and ongoing involvement with a great exhibit company.

All companies helped with all aspects from the type of display, back wall graphic design, shipping, I&D services and execution of all required items.

It all made our first trade show experience easy and very successful! We look forward to doing more.
